

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE WEST INDIES
PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL ECONOMY

The Sir Arthur Lewis Institute of Social and Economic Studies (SALISES) at the University of the West Indies, Mona, invites applications for the post of Professor of Political Economy. Potential candidates should possess a PhD in economics, political economy, international economics or related discipline and have an excellent track record of research and publishing in established journals.

Fields of specialization could include some combination of international political economy and international trade law, the economics of development, Caribbean economic policy, Caribbean economic history, and the political economy of small states and sustainable development.

The successful candidate would be expected to lead innovative research projects with particular emphasis on the Caribbean and its place in the contemporary world economy; develop trans-national networks of scholars to enhance policy debates on contemporary and future Caribbean development; and play a leading role in building the research and teaching capacity of SALISES.

Detailed applications giving i) full particulars of qualifications and experience, biodata; and ii) the names, titles, mailing and e-mail addresses, fax and telephone numbers of three (3) referees should be sent as soon as possible to the: UNIVERSITY REGISTRAR, OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATION, THE VICE CHANCELLERY, UNIVERSITY OF THE WEST INDIES, MONA, KINGSTON 7, JAMAICA, W.I. E-mail: (oadmin@uwimona.edu.jm) or Fax: (876) 977-1422.

Further Particulars of the post including full details of the remuneration package may be obtained from the Office of Administration by contacting us on – Fax: (876) 977-1422; or E-mail: oadmin@uwimona.edu.jm). The Further Particulars may also be obtained from our website at (<http://www.uwi.edu>).

Closing date for receipt of applications – November 13, 2009.